LIVING IN STYLE

One of the top designers in the country is about to become even more of a household name. Barclay Butera's coffee table book, Living in Style (Assouline, $65) hits shelves this month. Images of Butera's most memorable works fill the pages, and are divided into five themes: desert, city, mountain, beach and town and country. Those themes are matched by Butera's new line of candles, which are scented accordingly. What better way to enjoy a book than to smell the very theme at which you're looking? -KS
