

MODERN MOUNTAIN GETAWAY

*By Christine Phillips
Barclay Butera Interiors*

At Barclay Butera Interiors, requests from our clients with chic get-away mountain homes have almost exclusively become contemporary or transitional. As you can see with Butera's sophisticated project at One Snowmass Village in Colorado, gone are the days of mounted deer and fish, bear rugs and piled-on-plaid. These private ski residences have a look that's sleek and unfettered, elegant but not fussy. Splashes of modern art, sculpture and linear furnishings abound. The vibe says "relax, come in and kick off your boots, settle in by the fire." The après ski living is easy.
